Tokio.—One hundred and fifty-nine persons were drowned in the wreck of the steamship Taipei Maru off Cape Noto, northeast of Hokkaido, at 10:45 o'clock last night, says a dispatch to the Asahi, a leading Tokyo newspaper.

The Taipei Maru, a freighter steamship was carrying a number of passengers. She is operated by the North Japan Steamship company between the island of Saghalien and Hokkaido, northernmost of the main Japanese islands. She was bound for Ontaru at the time of the wreck. She is a vessel of 1,210 tons.

The Asahi's dispatch came from Toyohara, a town on Saghalien. The ship carried 133 passengers and a crew of 64 members. Eighteen passengers and five members of the crew survived, reaching Toyohara in life boats.

The cause of the wreck is obscure. The Asahi's dispatch says it resulted from a collision with the Kamikura Maru, a vessel belonging to the Kishimoto steamship company of Osaka but advised to the Nichi Nichi, another leading paper, declares it was due to striking rocks. This dispatch came from Ontaru. All aboard the ship were Japanese.

HIRST SHOWS BLAINE AS FRIEND TO LAW EVASION

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Mr. Hirst, opening up his campaign for nomination as governor again, after a week spent at his headquarters, A. R. Hirst delivered an address at Mt. Hirst, with a ripping attack on bootleggers, a demand for law enforcement, and a charge that there was a "Teapot Dome" under the dome of the capitol during the present administration, and that the governor was sitting lightly on the lid. Mr. Hirst said:

"The other day I picked up a copy of the Ironwood, Mich. Globe, carrying the story of a meeting at Hurley in which appeared a brief interview with the governor which illuminates his whole position on law enforcement."

"What do you think of the Hurley bona fides?" he was asked.

"You can't regulate people's habits," he replied.

"You know there are at least 50 saloons operating in Hurley?"

"Hillside's Wet Heely."

"You got to get public sentiment for a regulatory law, you know that?"

"Think of it, people of Wisconsin, the governor of this great commonwealth condones law violation and bootlegging! Think of him refusing to condemn the open notorious violation of the law. He puts himself above the law and the courts. He refuses to say he will enforce the law, practically says the law cannot be enforced, that public sentiment is not with it, and he acts as a judge and jury in determining public sentiment."

"What is this but an invitation to the bootleggers to continue to ply their trade?"

Mystery Murder in Widow's Death

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Lapeer, Mich.—Baffled by the mysterious slaying late Saturday night of Mrs. Blanche Burke, pretty 25 year old widow, officials continued today casting about for a clue to her assailant. The woman's body, stripped of clothing, was found early Sunday, the hands and feet bound with a wire and the body a mass of bruises.

Mrs. Burke, who was employed at the Michigan Home and Training school, a state institution for the abnormal, failed to return to her home on the school on Sunday night. About midnight Mrs. Albert Pierce, with whom she lived, telephoned the school and E. J. Walker, the superintendent, with Mrs. Pierce started to search for her.

Making a close examination along the road from the school to Mrs. Burke's residence they found a place where the grass appeared to be trampled down as if something had been dragged across it. Following the matted grass they came upon the body in a glaze some distance from the road. None of the woman's clothing was found and the only clue was a pair of cuff links of a make sold at a store near the school.

County authorities said Mrs. Burke had not been criminally attacked. Friends said that as far as they knew she had no enemies.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

May delivery of corn sold at $1.09 a bushel, the highest price ever known for that grade in this season of the year under normal conditions. Cambridge, Mass.—Henry Cabot Lodge, senior senator from Massachusetts, lay in a hospital here today utilizing all the strength of his 74 years to recover from the effects of an operation performed yesterday afternoon after a critical recurrence of a former ailment. Early morning reports from the hospital today said that the senator was as well as could be expected following so severe a test of his vitality. The attending physicians said that the operation, which was for removal of an obstruction in the bladder, would have to be followed by another, not an unusual necessity in the case of this disorder, they explained.

The senator, who has been under a physician's care since his return to his Nahant home a month ago, suddenly became seriously ill yesterday morning. He was hurried to the hospital here and, after a consultation, his physicians decided to operate. Mr. Lodge, in good spirits and remarkable condition for his age, rallied quickly after the operation and is now in the hospital here and, after a consultation, his physicians decided to operate. ### U. S. ASKS PERSIA TO STAND EXPENSE OF SHIPPING BODY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Washington.—Acting Secretary Grew of the state department announced today the despatch of "vigorous representations" to Tehran, Persia, to demand that the Persian government pay the expense of shipping the body of Vice Consul Robert Imbrie, who was killed recently by a Persian mob.

The communication sent to Minister Kornfeldt protested against the situation in Persia which culminated in the unprovoked attack on Mrs. Imbrie. It was suggested that the Persian government should deal more generally with the conditions existing in Persia and covering the vice consul's death.

Expect Persia to Pay

The communication delivered to the Persian foreign minister on Saturday indicated that the United States expected the Persian government to pay the expense of shipping the body of Vice Consul Imbrie and to furnish military guards for the American legation and consulate for such time as might be necessary.

Persian Policy to Sake

A flat statement was made that continuance of American diplomatic and consular representation in Persia depended upon the action which the Persian government may take in this case to vindicate the principles of international law.

In conclusion, the American communication said that the Washington government "cannot over-emphasize the seriousness of the view which is taken of the present situation."

Oshkosh Man Attacked by Young Trio

Oshkosh.—Three Chicago youths, all under 20, are held at the county jail here under bail of $5,000 each, following their confession Sunday to a murderous assault upon Richard Beavault, Chicago, construction engineer, west of here Saturday evening.

After plotting a daring daylight holdup with the view of stealing an automobile to continue their trip west, after their escape from a police trap, the boys requested a "lift" from the Chicago man and after riding with him several miles, suddenly attacked him by beating him over the head with a heavy wrench and confronting him with a revolver.

The tussle ended in the flight of the two boys.

By a coincidence they were captured later by Sheriff H. Peter Carlsson.

They gave their names as Joseph Stahola, 2033 West 52nd street; Steve Lipocky, 2415 West 47th place, and Rudolph Rapacki, 2111 West 52nd street, all of Chicago.

Complaints charging them with "assault with intent to rob" were read to the trio. Preliminary examinations were set Aug. 1.

$500,000 Separation Settlement Asked by Dancer, Suing Baron

New York.—The settlement of $500,000 made by Baron Hottel, a multi-millionaire Austrian, with his wife, the former Harriette Lorraine, a noted dancer, was not nearly enough to satisfy her. It now develops. She has brought suit against the Baron for an additional settlement of $500,000.

The dancing couple of Harriette by Hottel is still fresh in the minds of New Yorkers who keep up with doings on the Great White Way.

A diamond day, and rubles on Sunday... $20,000 fur coat... silks, satins, servants, automobiles and the luxuries of a queen—all these did the Baron shower on Harriette, whose twinkling feet were her fortune.

He won—only to lose. They didn't live together long. Incompatibility led to the drafting of a separation agreement, and the Baron gave Harriette $250,000.

It is strange, almost unbelievable, but Harriette didn't know until after they were separated, how great was the wealth of her husband. When she learned he had a fortune of more than $1,000,000, she consulted an attorney, and the suit for $500,000 is the result.

One of the reasons for their inability to live together happily was the jealousy which began to devour the Baron's heart when he nightly heard the admiring plaudits of the crowds who saw Harriette perform. He tried to get her to retire, to home life, but she refused.

Yeggmen Blow up N. W. R. R. Safe at Milton Jct., Get $32

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Milton Junction.—Yeggmen blew up the safe in the office of the Northwestern railroad office, at the union depot here, at 3 a. m. today, escaping with $32 in cash. The robbery was discovered by S. W. Hutchins, the local agent, who went to work at 6 o'clock.

Railroad authorities and the police departments of towns in this vicinity have been notified. An extremely heavy charge of explosive was used, the safe being blown into small pieces, which broke the three windows on the north side of the building, opening out of the office and the two large windows in the front of the building, opening into the waiting room. Several penetrated the ceiling. Authorities believe that the work was done by amateurs unfamiliar with the use of explosives.

Several persons, especially those who were near a train switching yard, heard the explosion, but failed to investigate it. The theory is that the robbers escaped on the train, since no automobile was seen.

A north-side window was forced, which led into the office, where the safe was located. The door from the office to the waiting room, and the outside door were found unlocked. The St. Paul office, occupying the opposite end of the building, erected last year, was not entered. A night operator is no longer kept here, the last one leaving at 10 p. m.

A. R. Hirst, former state highway engineer, and running against Blaine for the republican gubernatorial nomination, is scheduled to speak at the Myers theater at 8 p. m. Wednesday. M. P. Richardson will be chairman of the meeting. The high school band will give a concert from 7:15 to 8.

JOHN HANEY FINED $500

Pleading guilty to a charge of possession of liquor, John Haney, an employee of the Little Bohemia resort on the Janesville-Beloit concrete road, was fined $500 and costs of six months by Judge H. L. Maxfield in municipal court Monday.

A pint of liquor was confiscated by Sheriff Fred Heley in a raid Tuesday afternoon. It is understood that Haney is not the proprietor but he was in charge when the sheriff visited the place. He was represented in court by Attorney W. L. Arnold, Beloit.

Physical coward, shins pain but has no fear of men. He is an athlete. Leopold fantasized himself as a slave who was the strongest man in the world and who would often fight for the champion of his side against the opposite one. On the other side and always win, the report stated.

In taking up Leopold's estimate of himself the report says: "He has always felt himself to be of the intellectual type. He has always been extremely precocious intellectually. He has steadfastly tried to make intelligence the most important thing in his life and to repress his emotional side. As he puts it: 'My idea was cold blooded'."

JOHN TYRELL OF WISCONSIN, EXPERT ON HANDWRITING

CALL OTHER WITNESSES TO COMPLETE STATE'S EVIDENCE.

STOLE MACHINE

Typewriter Is One Taken from Frat House in Ann Arbor.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Chicago.—The court fight to save from the guillotine Nathan Leopold, Jr. and Richard Loeb, confessed kidnapers and murderers of Robert Frank, went into its second week today.

Oral argument promptly at 10 a. m. For the first time since the trial opened Loeb appeared wearing a four-in-hand tie in place of his usual precise bow-tie. Leopold wore his usual dark four-in-hand.

Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, called back to the stand Sergeant James J. Gortland, saying he wished the witness to identify some of the notes from which he read the north-side of last Friday, when he quoted Leopold as wishing to plead guilty before a "friendly judge."

The questioning had to do largely with the exact dates on which Gortland made the various memoranda. Judge Caverly frowned and shook his head as the tedious process continued. Attorney Darrow and Crowe conferred briefly as to the purpose of the state, the former nodding and starting a cross-examination.

He Was Mistaken

"Mr. Officer, Mr. Darrow said, 'You now say these certain sheets were written on July 24. You wrote them all at home and at the same time?'"

"No," said Gortland.

"Didn't you testify the other day that these six sheets now marked exhibit four, were written at different times?"

"Yes, mistaken," Gortland said.

The court was informed that the six sheets in question were, according to Gortland, "the outline of my testimony as prepared by me the night of July 24."

Then Gortland was excused.

Larry Cunneen, Mr. Crowe's private secretary, identified various statements written by Leopold at the Hotel Danmore, Chicago, the Thursday before the trial, July 24 to 26 hours before the first confessions.

The purpose was to form a basis for testimony on comparisons of handwriting.

Cunneen testified that Leopold had remarked three days after these specimens of handwriting were made, that he had made a slip because he had written a "y" in this writing of Thursday.

Cunneen next identified some specimens of Loeb's writing, showing a hundred sheets of letter head paper seized in the trial.

Beginning the second week of the trial.

Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney called handwriting experts in furtherance of what he has termed his "perfect hanging case."

John Tyrell of Milwaukee, a handwriting expert, testified that he had seen a record of a record of more than 200 important trials, identified the original ransom letter which demanded $10,000 from Jacob and Frank's father, the slain boy and his father, as having been written on an Underwood portable typewriter, a battered Underwood, fished from the trunk of a car in a lagoon near the shore of Lake Michigan, according to their confession. Loeb and Leopold had tossed it previously, had been introduced in evidence.

The train letter directed Mr. Frank to bring the money, securely wrapped from the moving train at a designated place, as Mr. Tyrell explained to Chief Justice John R. Caverly, in whose hands the fate of the typewriting specimens which had guided Mr. Tyrell in his identification and which had been passed to the defense, was explained. They changed a few smiling confidences over these.

Exhibits in the case reached 114 at this stage.

Taxi Driver Testifies

Charles Robinson, a taxi cab driver, testified that on May 22, 1924 he was sent to 5052 Ellis Avenue, but found no customer. The number is that of the Frank home.

He testified that he did not take the cab to the kidnappers telling him to ride in the cab to certain drug store and there await further instructions. Mr. Frank testified the first day of the hearing that he did not take this cab because he already knew that his boy was dead.

George W. McClellan, Chicago, manager of the Underwood Typewriter company, explained the company's methods in tracing typewriters reported stolen and testified that the number on the portable Underwood fished from the Jackson park lagoon were on the "golden list" sent out from company headquarters in New York.

On cross examination Mr. Darrow brought out that the machine was stolen from Ann Arbor, Mich., the street address being that of a fraternity house there.

Some idea of the great size of the set pieces can be realized when it is known that some are over 150 feet long and 50 feet high. No one can imagine how beautiful an effect can be realized when a frame this large is exhibited in all its glory of lights and color.

The fireworks expert will supervise the erection of these special frames, so that everything will be in first class shape for the greatest fireworks show that has ever been shown in our city.

Some idea of the great size of the set pieces can be realized when it is known that some are over 150 feet long and 50 feet high. No one can imagine how beautiful an effect can be realized when a frame this large is exhibited in all its glory of lights and color.

The fireworks expert will supervise the erection of these special frames, so that everything will be in first class shape for the greatest fireworks show that has ever been shown in our city.

Madison—Installation of officers and devotional services closed the silver anniversary of the National Order of Gileads, society of Christians, Saturday afternoon here.

Samuel R. Boggs, Philadelphia, re-elected president, urged Gileads to carry forth the work of their organization and to combat evil.

"The chief weakness of religion today, where there is weakness, is in the toleration of evil," declared President Boggs. "When the church makes a compromise of the fundamentals of her faith, she loses her vision and her testimony becomes weak."

There are two principles in life which are legitimate when we apply them to the administration of human affairs; first, the spirit of arbitration, which has performed a wonderful ministry; second, conciliation, which is a legitimate and honorable principle in the administration of the affairs of life."

He urged Gileads to adopt the slogan, "The toleration of evil" and "no compromise of truth."

Resolutions adopted by the convention included support of "blue laws" and prohibition statutes; favoring an international agreement regulating the growth of the poppy to control the sale of narcotics; affirmation of the Bible as the cornerstone of world peace.

CHURCH MEMBERS MAY DO THE WORK

Bids for Lutheran Edifice All
Rejected as Too High.

With rejection of all of the six bids submitted for the general construction of the new edifice for the First Lutheran church of Janesville, on account of being in excess of the funds available, plans are now being considered to proceed with the work under the supervision of church members.

The bids opened Saturday night by the committee showed Querna and Stead of Janesville, low, with a bid of $29,357 for the general construction. Other bidders were J. E. Van Tassel, T. S. Willis, Johnson and Severson of Janesville; Andrew Lindquist, Marengo, Ill.; and Otto Hachkarth, Port Atkinson. The church has a fund of $30,000 for a new home, and it was evident to the committee that this would be exceeded if the general contract work took most of that, and did not include plumbing and heating. A decision on the course of action will be made this week, as a new building is much needed. Mr. Jensen, together with Alfred Anderson, C. E. Querna, J. E. Severson, all engaged in the building and associated businesses, form the building committee.

ford, H. C. Ross, Angus breeders; J. C. Robinson and Son, Christensen Brothers, Hereford; and George Shuttlesworth, Minnesota. Assire breeders.

All judging will start Thursday, announces Father McDermott, and there is lively interest in the awards to be made. An increased number of ribbons is reported on poultry, sheep and hogs.

Chief interest in Janesville, But the Rock county fair is putting its main interest in the future boys and girls.

Junior clubs will overshadow all other exhibits, for it is expected there will be more than 250 boys and girls participating in the events in the community tent and junior fair institute.

"The boys and girls are Rock county's citizens of tomorrow," explains Father McDermott. "Our present educational system is too much away from the farm and our effort in the fair this year is to attract the boys and girls to the possibilities of Rock county agriculture. We have secured the best men available to conduct the club demonstrations and offer more than $1,000 in cash premiums and special prizes.

The fair represents the unification of the development efforts along all lines in Rock county, rural schools, farms, playdays and all."

Each day there will be a program in the 40x100 foot community tent by Rock county people. This tent will also be the center of all club activities. The best farm authorities and state club leaders will participate in these programs, giving lectures and programs to be followed by actual demonstrations on livestock and farm products. Different types of programs will be held by the district and Rock county clubs, with every township represented.

Prizes will be given in the junior livestock judging contest, to be a part of the demonstrations.

There will be plenty of opportunity for judging high class stock for entries have been received from Minnesota, Illinois, Michigan, as well as Wisconsin. The Rock county show boys will start the season with healthy competition.

On Saturday comes the Rock county championship spelling bee, five having been selected from each school.

The pageant of Rock county will come on Friday, when the blue ribbon and other stock will be paraded in connection with the pageant put on by the rural schools.

The fair further boasted the main industry of the county by putting on a strictly dairy products lunch, where only milk, cream and cheese will be offered.

Interest is being taken in the radio voting contest, each township having a candidate, for whom voters will be cast in the community tent with a standard radio set going to the winner.

In addition to these community events there will be the usual fair attractions, fireworks, seven freestyle, fine horse races and carnival row. There are 104 of the speed nags on the grounds being groomed for the races to be held each day on Saturday.

The program will be increased by novelty races for the boys and girls, Saturday being junior club day. Fireworks will be shown each night of the fair, with a mammoth pumpkin the feature.

All down the line the Rock county fair this year is seeking to make good on the county's slogan—"Rock County Fair."

The Needle Will Be Rusty!

By the time you find the well-known needle which is located in the equally well-known haystack, the needle will be covered with rust—totally unfit for use.

That explains why we do not throw the A-B-C Classified Offers together in a haphazard jumble so that looking for what you want is like looking for the needle in the haystack.

We have designed the classified section so that you can find what you want just the instant you want it.

That's the real reason for those alphabetical and numerical "guides" which lead your eyes so swiftly to the exact offer you want.

They're not thrown in there for fun—they're put there wholly and solely for YOUR convenience—to help make you a habitual classified reader and to help yourself to Jansville's best opportunities.

Don't pass up the good things of life—or the classified
